Given what we know about the origin of life on Earth, how would you recognize life on another world? Would this require a physical visit? [~0.5 page]